

Subject: Photo Exhibition with IVCRC for a Polaroid!

Hello!

Want a free Polaroid camera? Just go outside and take a photo of a flower, then send it to us at tinyurl.com/IVflowers. We'll randomly select a winner of the camera from the submissions we've received. We also made a fancy poster for the occasion.

Please keep these rules in mind:

1. You must take the photo yourself. No Googling—we're trusting you!
2. You must take a new photo. So no reusing past photos.
3. Both you and the flower must be outside. No houseplants please.
4. You can submit multiple photos, but we'll only count one toward the camera.
5. Submissions close on Friday, June 4, 11:59pm PST.

We've been cooped up inside for a while, but now that it's spring, why not get some fresh air? And admiring the flowers outside is the perfect excuse (as is getting some exercise).

And yes, this flower exhibition of sorts is based on participation, not quality, so you don't need to be a pro or anything. Obvious low-effort submissions will still be disqualified though, so make sure to put at least some amount of effort into your shots.

That's all. Have at it!

This giveaway/thinly veiled publicity stunt/encouragement at greater appreciation of Isla Vista/light exercise session in disguise has been brought to you by the Isla Vista Community Relations Committee, or IVCRC for short. We fund organizations that "make IV a better place" and other such clichés that we believe to actually be true.

Questions? Want to learn more about us? Here you go:

- Website: ivcrc.as.ucsb.edu
- Email: ivcrc.as.ucsb@gmail.com
- Instagram: instagram.com/as\_ivcrc
- Facebook: facebook.com/IVCRC

Best,

Jennie Wu

IVCRC Arts and Culture Coordinator 2020–2021

Yiu-On Li

IVCRC Treasurer 2020–2021